

Dear FASPE Fellows, Friends and Faculty,

This edition of our newsletter includes details about our March 2018 Awards Dinner, a link to the updated FASPE Alumni Directory, a list of the 2018 Fellows, news from the annual FASPE Reunion & Symposium and information about recent regional alumni events.

To find the latest news about FASPE, please visit our new website at www.FASPE-Ethics.org, and look for us on Facebook, Twitter and Instagram.

And if you'd like to make a contribution to support FASPE, you can always do so online.

Sincerely,
Thorin R. Tritter
Executive Director

2018 FASPE ETHICAL LEADERSHIP AWARDS

As you probably know, the Annual Dinner & Ethical Leadership Awards is FASPE's most important fundraiser, enabling us to continue granting fellowships at no cost to Fellows. This year we raised more than half a million dollars. We were pleased to recognize our Corporate Honoree, Cravath, Swaine & Moore, and our Posthumous Honoree, Emanuel Ringelblum and the Oneg Shabbat Team.

Chaplain Adeel Zeb, 2013 Seminary Fellow

In addition, this year we added a third honoree, our Distinguished Fellow Award, which was given to Chaplain Adeel Zeb. Adeel was a 2013 Seminary Fellow who currently serves as the co-university Muslim chaplain at The Claremont Colleges and is president of the National Association of College and University Chaplains. As a leading figure among university chaplains, Adeel has used his positions to increase awareness about interfaith issues and other ethical challenges faced by religious leaders. In the years ahead, FASPE looks forward to honoring other Fellows who are leading voices in their professions on ethics. For more information about the FASPE Awards, please visit our website.

2018 FASPE FELLOWS

We are excited to announce the 2018 FASPE Fellows. Thank you to all the alumni who read applications and interviewed candidates. We are grateful for your help and look forward to working with these wonderful Fellows this summer. I hope you will all meet them at a regional gathering or at the annual Reunion & Symposium next year. You can also see some recent stories about them on the Press tab of our website.

ANNUAL REUNION & SYMPOSIUM

The annual Reunion & Symposium was held on March 3 and 4 at Columbia University's Graduate School of Journalism. While some of our Fellows and faculty faced travel challenges due to an unfortunately timed nor'easter, we had a great set of sessions that explored various ethical issues facing professionals today, along with a panel discussion on “The Ethics of the Future.” Another highlight of the weekend was a talk by Holocaust survivor and Polish journalist Marian Turski. Given the challenges posed by the weather we are planning on holding next year's event in April, 2019.

REGIONAL ALUMNI EVENTS

In addition to our annual Reunion & Symposium in New York, we have been working to establish regional gatherings in cities where we have sizable groups of alumni.

At the end of last year, Fellows in the Washington DC area gathered at the National Press Club for drinks and a discussion. Another event is scheduled for June 1. Any alumni interested in attending should contact Edgar Woznica (2012 Medical) for more details.

Fellows in New York gathered in January to hear legal ethicist and FASPE Law faculty member David Luban speak on “The Power of Bureaucrats: From Adolf Eichmann to the Present.” The talk was held at the Museum of Jewish Heritage in conjunction with their exhibition on Eichmann and was followed by an alumni reception. Plans are in the works for another alumni event in New York City this summer.

Facebook groups for alumni in DC and New York, along with others in Boston, Chicago and San Francisco also provide a way to foster connections. Please reach out to Thorin Tritter if you live in one of these cities and would like to join one of these Facebook groups, or if you have an idea for a speaker, reading or activity in your area that you think would inspire interest from other alumni.

PUBLIC DISCOURSE COMMITTEE

A number of our alumni have mentioned an interest in engaging with contemporary ethical issues through blog postings, op-ed articles or other means. FASPE would like to help foster this public engagement by Fellows who can draw on their FASPE experience when discussing contemporary issues. In general, FASPE is interested in increasing its own visibility and the visibility of its Fellows.

FASPE has been posting stories written by Fellows on the FASPE website and on our Twitter feed. Recent pieces include an article by Alexandra Levine \(Journalism 2015\) about what lessons our own Fellows take from the Holocaust; Abraar Karan \(2015 Medical\) writing about global health programs; and Dhruv Khullar \(2012 Medical\) writing about politics and medicine.

If you are interested in becoming a larger voice in the public discourse about contemporary ethics, please contact Thorin Tritter.
