

Testimonials from 2019 FASPE Journalism Fellows

"Now that I am back, the impact of the program is even more clear. Participating in the program gave me so much inspiration and energy as I move forward as a journalist. It's helped me feel more confident in my ethical decisions, and thus more confident as a journalist overall. Also, in the end it was just a great to be around so many other people who take ethical questions seriously and are willing to deeply engage with these issues."

"I feel very thankful to have participated in FASPE. It was very well organized. It has sparked an ongoing curiosity in me regarding the topics we discussed, and left me feeling inspired and confident. I returned to my newspaper feeling like my ethical armour has been strengthened. Overall, FASPE was an unforgettable experience. Thank you to everyone at FASPE for making this happen."

"I think it has made me more aware of my own motivations and subjectivities."

"I genuinely feel more secure in myself as a professional in my newsroom after FASPE. It helped my confidence in my judgment to have the language of ethics at my fingertips."

"It went far beyond my expectations. I was so impressed and humbled by the other fellows, and made some lasting friendships."
