

Andrew Flamm is a development associate with several years of experience in nonprofit development and political campaigning. He graduated with his BS in Computer Information Science from Mercy College. Andrew always works diligently to aid the people and causes important to him. He resides in Yonkers, New York, with his two roommates who always appreciate his cooking.