

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASEContact:

Haley Gorda, Communications Manager
hgorda@faspe-ethics.org
(646) 405-5956

Fellowships at Auschwitz for the Study of Professional Ethics (FASPE)Announces 2024 Fellowship Faculty

January 9, 2024, New York, NY-- Fellowships at Auschwitz for the Study of Professional Ethics (FASPE) is pleased to announce the Faculty who will lead its 2024 Fellowships, taking place in Poland, Germany, and at Auschwitz in May and June. FASPE Fellowships are intensive, fully funded, two-week programs for graduate students and early career professionals working or studying in the fields of Business, Design and Technology, Journalism, Law, Medicine, and Seminary. The Fellowship experience is designed to challenge participants to recognize their responsibilities as future leaders and people of influence by examining the roles and behavior of individual professionals in Germany and elsewhere between 1933 and 1945 as an initial framework for approaching ethical decision-making in the professions today.

FASPE Faculty members are professionals, educators, and scholars at leading institutions and play a pivotal role in shaping the Fellowship experience. The 2024 FASPE Fellowship Faculty are:

Max Bazerman (FASPE Business), Jesse Isidor Straus Professor of Business Administration, Harvard Business School

Dr. Ann Tenbrunsel (FASPE Business), David E. Gallo Professor of Business Ethics, the College of Business Administration, University of Notre Dame

Tim Sperling (FASPE Law), Head of Litigation and Governmental Investigations, Boehringer Ingelheim

David Luban (FASPE Law), Distinguished University Professor in Law and Philosophy, Georgetown University

Mary L Gray (FASPE Design & Technology), Senior Principal Researcher, Microsoft Research and Faculty Associate, Harvard University's Berkman Klein Center for Internet and Society

Lindsey Cameron (FASPE Design and Technology), Assistant Professor of Management, Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania

Jay Malone, MD, PhD, HEC-C (FASPE Medical) Associate Professor of Pediatric Critical Care Medicine, Washington University School of Medicine

Katherine Fischkoff, MD, (FASPE Medical) Chief, Division of General Surgery,
Columbia University Department of Surgery

Rev. Dr. Andrea White (FASPE Seminary), Associate Professor of Theology and Culture, Union Theological Seminary

Rabbi Naomi Kalish (FASPE Seminary), Harold and Carole Wolfe Director of the Center for Pastoral Education, Jewish Theological Seminary

Sheila Coronel (FASPE Journalism), Director of the Stabile Center for Investigative Journalism and Stabile professor of professional practice, Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism

Robe Imbriano (FASPE Journalism), Director of the Ira. A. Lipman Center for Journalism and Civil and Human Rights and Ira A. Lipman Associate Professor of Journalism at Columbia University

FASPE is no longer accepting applications for 2024 Fellowships and will announce its 2024
Fellows in March. Learn more at faspe-ethics.org.

###

About FASPE

FASPE (Fellowships at Auschwitz for the Study of Professional Ethics) challenges its professionals to recognize and exercise their ethical and leadership responsibilities as influencers. FASPE's distinctive approach is to examine the roles and behavior of individual professionals in Germany and elsewhere between 1933 and 1945 as an initial framework for approaching ethical responsibility in the professions today.

Each year, FASPE awards 80 to 90 Fellowships to graduate students and early-career professionals in Business, Seminary, Design & Technology, Journalism, Law, and Medicine. The Fellowships begin with intense study in Germany and Poland where FASPE takes advantage of the urgency created by the power of place to translate the history into the present. Beyond its signature Fellowship program, FASPE utilizes its distinct methodology in ethics training workshops for practicing professionals in organizations across business sectors, in public writings and lectures, and in a condensed European study trip for practicing professionals. Learn more at faspe-ethics.org.