

Megan has a Bachelor's degree in Media Communications and English and a Master's in Social Work, specializing in Leadership and Management. She has experience working in both national and international nonprofits and organizations doing social programming, engagement, outreach, and administrative work. Megan loves to read and lives in NJ with her dog Luna.