

David Westfall, Administrative Assistant, provides operations and administrative support across all FASPE departments, assisting with development, programs, and recruiting. Prior to joining the team, David supported teams through hybrid roles spanning executive support, human resources, operations, and client relations.

Outside of the office, David is an avid runner and writer. He views the discipline of pacing a long run and the deep reflection required for writing as perfect parallels to the intentional, daily practice of ethical leadership.